1. At request, briefed me on the various phases of the proposed Scientific and Technical course in the hope that I might run across some usable material while in attendance at the Senior Officer Nuclear Weapons Employment Course at Ft. Leavenworth. Stan also asked if our Staff would assist in editing some of the instructional material he is collating and I offered the capable services of and . Stan was also provided information on external programs in the atomic, biological, chemical and electronic's field in which Agency personnel have participated, plus data on nuclear facilities at universities cooperating with and the Argonne Laboratories.

2. Our major effort in the past week was directed toward gathering facts and estimates so that we could present our budget needs in understandable fashion.

3. Student evaluations for 16 IAC employees who completed Regional Survey - Southeast Asia were reviewed from LAS. (One of these students was Frederick Rein, of USIA, who recently attained some fame on the "21" TV quiz show). Instructor comments concerning each student were reviewed for possible inclusion in the letters being prepared for the sponsoring agencies. However, five of the sixteen contained comments of a negative nature and two others were noncomplimentary. For these seven, our letters will indicate only that they completed the course. For those cases where the comments were favorable, we will include such statements in our letters.
